Lawyers Invoke the Statutes to Save Mr. Gerstenberg's Dog.

Government Says It Must Die, But

Judge Scott Reserves His

Final Decision. The lower police court was the scene of an interesting trial early this afternoon after the day's docket had been disposed of Ernest Gerstenberg, the Pennsylvania avenue restaurant keener, sat in an easy posture at the right of Attorney Albright who represented him in the fight which he is making to save the life of his pet dog, which was ordered to be killed by the court some days ago, upon proof being brought forward that the animal was quarrelsome and dangerous. The police ordered the dog to be given up, but Mr. Gerstenberg refused. He was arraigned this morning to answer the charge of contempt of court.

Attorneys Albright and Sillers contended that the order to kill the dog was illegal and that the court had not the power to give such an order.

Prosecuting Attorney Pugh cited several passages and authorities to confront and disproye the arguments of the lawyers for the opposition. He said the police regula-tion was made a few months after the act of Congress, mentioned by Mr. Albright,

It was in strict accordance with the pro-visions of the act of Congress. The act of Congress mentioned that three times a man owning a fierce and dangerous dog must be convicted before the dog can be killed. The police regulations say not a fierce and erous, but a fierce and biting dog.

POLICE COURT DAILY GRIST

Two Negroes Fined for Being in a Mob-Branch Wright Turns Up Again and Will Rest on the Farm. Usual Procession of Drunks and Vags Before His Honor.

The cases in Judge Scott's court were not out of the ordinary this morning, and the usual run of "vags" and drunks looked sleepily out of the pen at his honor. George Johnson and John Harris, two colored men, stepped up and faced his onor upon the charge of disorderly conduct. According to the officer's story, last night, when near Seventh street and Maine avenue, he ran into a party of about twenty colored people, who were very much excited. They were running after a uan crying "Lynch him!"

With difficulty the patrolman got the nah away from the crowd, and when con veying him up the street the crowd stoned he two and refuge had to be taken on a car. Even then about a dozen followed the oliceman and his prisoner. The colored people were incensed at the action of the white man toward a party of colored girls No one appeared against the man at the station-house and he was released. The officers then returned to the scene of the attempted robbing, and recognizing Harris and Johnson as members of the mob, arrested them. They were fined $2 each. Henry Hardy, one of the citizens of the ide-awake world, said he was guilty of being drunk and disorderly and paid a fine

Frank Donoboe is a white man who don't get drunk except about once in four months, and then he gets dead drunk. Yesterday he imbibed too freely out on the Benning's road and proceeded to tear pike and knock the record for fighting and successive knockouts of peaceable pedes trians higher than a kite. He was sober this morning and a fine of $1 was imposed, which some friend paid for him.

Edward Jones asked alms of a traveling salesman who was showing his goods in the neighborhood of Fourteenth and R streets. Upon being refused money be followed the seller of goods. Jones is a big, burly white man, and the salesman became frightened. He winked at a policeman as he passed, and Jones was taken into custody. Judge Scott gave him thirty days. Richard B. Norment, a lawyer, seventythree years old, was arraigned in the police court this morning on the charge of trespass-ing on the parking. He was in Rollins Park, near the corner of Twentieth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, and seeing no seats or benches walke da few feet up on the bank, where the grass was entirely worn off. He was extremely tired, and took off his coat and hung it up on a limb and then sat on a branch near the ground. Two officers of the law saw the old gentleman resting there, and immediately confronted him with the enormity of his offense. Mr. Norment is a law yer, and heasked the policemen wherein he had offended. This was too much, and Mr. Norment, a gray: haired old man, was carried to the Third precinct station-house in the patrol wagon. The judge took Mr. Norment's personal

Mr. Pugh said that it would be a charity to Wright to give him two sentences yearly of six months each. The man promised never to drink another drop, but he has done this before, and he has thirty days in the work-

THE TIMES DAILY WEATHER MAP.

Grenared at the United States Weather Bureau)

Explanatory Note: The above map shows the weather conditions prevailing over the country at 8 o'clock this morning, Eastern time. Solid lines are isobars, or lines of equal air pressure, drawn for each tenth of an inch. Dotted lines are isotherms, or tipes of equal temperature, drawn for each ten degrees Shaded areas are regions where rain or snow has fallen during the preceding twelve hours. The words "high" and "low" show location of areas of high and low baromete The symbols at the stations show the state of the weather and direction of the wind.

Small arrows fly with the wind. The most interesting part of the above map is the narrow strip of rainfall extending from New Mexico to Newfoundland. This strip is not much more than 200 miles wide, but nearly 3,000 miles long. It shows the extreme difficulty existing in attempting to forecast rainfall in the summer senson. If the wind arrows are examined it will be found that they generally tend inward to this strip on either side along its whole length. It is certain that the conditions causing this remarkable rain are to be sought for in the upper air. It is generally believed that the r igling of two currents of air of differ ent temperature cannot produce rain. The west gulf, and will probably lose much

Prospects are favorable for a culmin ion of the present heat in a thu to-night, and cooler weather probably torm does not come, however, the coole weather may be delayed till to-morrow

WAR OR THE FARMERS. Church People Object to Truck Haul-

Moorestown, Pa., Aug. 29.—The church people of Mooresto wn are up in arms against the farmers who haul truck to the Philadelphia markets on Sunday nights, and there is every fulfication of a merry war being waged between the two. It is the custom of the figures of this section to gather their truck on Sundays, and start for market with it between 7:30 and 11 at night. They all pass through Moorestown by the way of Main street, on which are situated seven churches. These which are situated seven churches. These wagons pass through by the bundreds, and the noise made going over the cobbletones is so great that the services in the various churches have to be well-nigh sus-

Rev. W. T. S. Lembar, of the Paptist Church, is at the head of the movement to have the Sunday traffic suppressed. First the Township Committee was asked to restrict farm wagons passing through during the bours for rervice, or compel the farmers to ure a side street, but as that body is computed chiefly of farmers them-selver, they declined, saying it was beyond their jurisdiction

The next step to be taken by the church people will be formally to request the farmers to abate the nuirance. If this does not have the derired effect, then it rested under the old blue laws which make it a punishable offense to perform so labor on the Sabbath.

LABOR MEN SEE M'ADOO

They Personally Request That the Marine Band May Remain.

Further Hearing Will Be Had, But It Is Probable That the Order Will Not Be Revoked.

S. A. Clements, W. H. Stickell, John Fitzgerald, M. F. Hobbs, John B. Ireland, and Charles Wells, representatives of the Plasterers' and Plate Printers' labor mions, of this city, appeared before Mr. McAdoo, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, to-day and protested against his order of yesterday, sending the United States Marine Band to Philadelphia to participate in the Labor Day celebration there.

The Washington organizations said that they had contracted some time ago with Prof. Franchilli, the leader of the band, to play here for their organizations on Labor-

Mr. McAdod told them that the only request received by the department for the services of the band on Labor Day had come from the Letter Carriers' Ass tion of Philadelphia, and that knowing nothing of the contract of the Washingto labor organizations, he had granted it. The probabilities are that the order will stand and that the band will go to Philadelphia. There is a chance, however, that the band may be divided, a section remain-ing here and a pection going to Pfiliadel-phia. A question as to whether this can be done has arisen. It is claimed that the order of Mr. Meadoo directs the band to go to Philadelphia, and not a portion of it. Prof. Fanculai was given a further hear-ing at 3 o'clock this afternoon before Acting Secretary McAdoo. He will be expected to explain why the application of any labor organization for the services of the Marine Band on Labor Day, if actually made, as asserted, was not laid before the Department for action, as the band cannot fill any private contracts without the consent of the Secretary of
